GRENFELL TOWER RESPONSE

Thursday 15 June 2017

Dear Friends

You will have all seen the tragic events that have happened at Grenfell Tower Block in North Kensington early on Wednesday morning. Local clergy and churches have done a wonderful job, remaining open from early this morning, offering food, clothing and comfort. I spent most of the day there yesterday talking with residents, firefighters, police and ambulance staff who had been doing a heroic job through the night and the day. It has obviously been very distressing for many of them. It was a tragic day but I was proud to see the church at its best yesterday.

Prayer - Please pray for all those waiting for news of loved ones, and for courage for the emergency services. Please pray for all those who cannot go home, that accommodation will be found for them.

Donate - At the moment, given such great generosity yesterday, it has been requested that no donations of clothes, food or toiletries are dropped off at any of the centres including the parish church, St Clement's, Treadgold Street, W11 whilst they assess what they have. We know that over the coming days and weeks, parishes may want to donate money to families who have lost everything in the fire.

I want to thank all those who encouraged us yesterday by sending messages, and offering to come and pray with people. The whole community has come together in a remarkable way, and I pray that this compassion will continue and that we are able to support people as they look to re-build their lives in the coming weeks and months.

With very best wishes and prayers,

The Rt Revd Dr Graham Tomlin

Sunday conversations

Today (Sunday 18 June) the author James Stourton will join us in the Parish Room at Holy Trinity after the Sung Eucharist to talk about his new biography of the broadcaster and art historian Lord Kenneth Clark. There will be drinks and nibbles to keep our hunger at bay until lunchtime! Lord Clark was the father of Colette Clark, a member of our congregation, who will be joining in the reflection on her father's life on Father's Day.

New kneeler for the High Altar

A piano recital to raise funds for the creation of a new kneeler for the High Altar takes place on Thursday June 22 at 7.30pm. Edmund Lee, a member of the congregation will perform music by Bach, Chopin, Liszt, Prokofiev, Rachmaninov and Scriabin. Tickets are on sale in church and at the door on the night at £15 each.
